BRICKS ARRIVE!

Carranya, Sunday morning: A loud, heavy noise was heard slowly pulling up Carranya's drive at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday. At last it had come! A semi carrying 4,500 bricks for the building of the much needed amenities block that will contain showers, toilets, laundry and sauna. Another load of 1,500 bricks is due up some time this week.

Rob Gibson is the architect for the building. He has submitted his plans to Council for approval and we are now awaiting their affirmation. Alan Hobbs, the local health inspector, is expected to visit us any day now. And cement for the foundations is being purchased in Perth; once that arrives, there'll be no stopping us!!!!

So strengthen your backs boys! Girls, too, be prepared to roughen your hands a little. It's not going to take long to finish, once we all get started. Keep projecting; no more waiting in a queue for a shower or standing out in the wind over a copper. Praises be!!
